

Here we find ourselves on a stretch of the “Antica Strada Regina”, an important transit route built by the Romans, as it allowed a connection between the Po Valley and the region north of the Alps. At the center of the bridge, in a niche, you can admire a bas-relief by Vannuccini 7 (1965), which represents San Giovanni Nepomuceno, patron of bridges and on the right the chapel dedicated to the Madonna di Caravaggio.

Turn back and then left into Via per Loveno and left again into Via Leoni which you follow to the end. Cross Via Lusardi, passing in front of the little church San Rocco, built in 1772, and pick up Via Roma which leads along the entrance of the Lido of Menaggio built in 1934 with its big beach and swimming pool. The building is an excellent example of the Rationalist style. The walk continues along Lungo Lago Benedetto Castelli. Here you find the monument by Francesco Somaini, 8 dedicated to the women silk weavers, donated to the town of Menaggio by the Mantero family, owners of several silk mills. It is made of Carrara Marble and represents a hymn to the weaving culture of Como, in which work, art and management ability are melted and mixed, following the centuries old tradition which has made Como one of the silk capitals of the world.

You continue your way on the lovely lake side promenade where you can enjoy the beauty of the landscape which has made the fortune of the area. You pass the Grand Hotel Victoria built in 1885 and then you'll find yourself in Largo Cavour where there is a panel 9 with interesting old pictures of Menaggio. Just around the corner is Piazza Garibaldi, the starting point of our itinerary.

NOTES ON THE HISTORY OF MENAGGIO

The discovery of a few archaeological relics enables us to affirm that since early historical times people lived here. In 196 B.C., the Romans conquered the area. With the building of the road called “Via Regina” the Romanisation of the area started. In the Middle Ages a castle was built in the upper part of the town and Menaggio was surrounded by walls. Because of its privileged position on the Via Regina, Menaggio was strategically of great importance. Already then the Via Regina was an important commercial and travel route which connected the Lombardy plain with the area north of the alps. In the 15th century a continual succession of war time events took place. The Graubundener, who had already conquered the Valtellina, kept Menaggio under pressure and in 1523 they succeeded defeating it and destroying its castle. In 1525, the domain of Spain began and Menaggio crossed two centuries of poverty. This situation lasted till 1714 when the first Austrian domination started and quality of life rapidly improved. In 1805, after the creation of the Kingdom of Italy, Menaggio became the seat of the substituting Prefect and in 1859 centre in the Como region, of the insurrection movement “Risorgimento” against the Austrians.

Towards the end of the century, the tourist vocation of Menaggio began to develop, with the construction of the big hotels and villas especially at Loveno. Among these Villa Garovaglio-Ricci and Villa Mylius Vigoni, now owned by the German Federal Republic and seat of the German- Italian cultural centre Villa Vigoni which organizes high level meetings. The romantic park can be visited on reservation tel. 0344 361 232 on Thursday afternoon.

At the beginning of the 19th century Menaggio was already a well-known resort. Important for this development was the construction of the railway Menaggio - Porlezza, that was used till 1939, and of the foundation of the Menaggio - Cadenabbia Golf Club. In 1934 the Lido Giardino was built which was another innovation for tourism. In the first world war the Italian army built impressive defence lines in the surrounding mountains such as the Crocetta and Monte Crocione which in part are still intact. In April 1945 the town witnessed Mussolini's brief stop at Menaggio on his way to Valtellina; he was captured though at Dongo by the Partisans.

MENAGGIO

HISTORICAL ITINERARY THROUGH THE TOWN

Menaggio consists of a centre and three villages - Loveno, Nobiallo and Croce - and has a total of about 3200 inhabitants. With this itinerary we want to show you around the centre of the town. In case there are children walking with you, the tourist office suggests the amusing puzzle tour you can do together with this itinerary. Before starting your walk, we recommend to read the notes about the history of Menaggio.

DURATION: 1 HOUR

Our itinerary starts in Piazza Garibaldi. Pick up Via Calvi and half way up the street on the right you find the church S. Marta. 1

On the facade you can see the Roman memorial plaque of Minicio Exorato, a notable of the empire; above it the town-arms. Inside the church there are some interesting paintings of the 17th century. At the end of Via Calvi is the parish church of S. Stefano 2 of very ancient origins whose original Roman structures have however been lost; even the orientation itself is in the opposite direction of its primitive setting. The church has three naves which, in 1899, were covered with frescoes by a local artist named Tagliaferri. Quite noteworthy is the one of the martyr Santo Stefano located in the vault of the apse. In the presbytery, two works by the painter Castelli from Menaggio. Above the altar of the Madonna, at the front of the left nave, you find a copy of a painting by Bernardino Luino depicting Maria with Jesus and an angel.

The original work is now at the Louvre. The altar is surrounded by copper medallions representing scenes from the Madonna's life. In the middle of the right nave there is a large painting of San Giorgio but the artist is unknown. The altar of "Il Sacro Cuore" is embellished with stuccoes of the 17th century by the "maestri intelvesi" (famous sculptors and craftsmen of the Val d'Intelvi who passed their experience from father to son and worked all over Europe).

When you come out of the church you turn right into Via Caronti, then at the end of the street turn right into Via Leoni. After 30 m turn left into Via Castellino da Castello. Just at the beginning of the street you see one of the panels 3 that reconstruct the events that led to the capture and shooting of Mussolini and his fascist leaders. On 25 April 1945, Mussolini, after having refused to negotiate his surrender with the National Liberation Committee Alta Italia, left Milan and took the road to the lake. After a stop in Menaggio, he joined with his faithful a German military column in retreat towards the Alpine passes that was stopped by a partisan block between Musso and Dongo.

Via Castellino da Castello leads to the upper part of town where the castle once stood. On the way you pass some beautiful portals. On the corner with Via Strecioum stands the native house of P. Gabriel Malagrida, 4 a Jesuit who was martyred in Lisbon in 1761 under the despotic regime of Pombal. From here continue straight on along Via Castellino da Castello.

The "Castello" of today gives only a faint idea of how it was in the middle ages. It was in fact completely destroyed in 1523 by the Signori delle Leghe Grigie (Graubundener).

Left intact are parts of its enormous perimeter walls which you can admire at various points. The houses in the upper part of Via Castellino da Castello follow the original contours of the castle. On the facade of house number 54 there are two medieval sculptures 5 from the XI century, a winged feline and a bust.

tle you find the church S. Carlo 6 which was built in 1614. on order of Cinzio Calvi so that he and his wife could have their tombs in it. The church has a characteristic Spanish style bell tower a reminder of the period of Spanish domination in the 15-16th century. The bell tower can be seen from the centre of town.

When you reach the end of the street continue to the left and follow Via N. Sauro. After only 20 m you pick up the street, just before a small parking lot, that runs right below the walls of the castle. Just past another small car park, you pick up Via Fabbri. At the beginning of the street, on the left, on the top of a gate, there is a sculpture of the 12th century representing the head of the bull of San Luca. Then a bit further down on the left there is a fountain called "Del Salvatore". Above it there is a bust in relief of the 12th century which has unfortunately been damaged by time. At the end of Via Fabbri you end up again in Via Castellino da Castello which you follow down to the right for ca. 10 meters and then you pick up Via Strecioum to the left. At the end of the street continue a few meters and you come to one of the most picturesque bridges over the river Sanagra.
